

Name : _____

Match the Coin Riddle Worksheet

Riddle

I am worth five cents and have a picture of Thomas Jefferson. What am I?

I am the smallest U.S. coin and have a copper color. What am I?

I am worth ten cents and have a picture of Franklin D. Roosevelt. What am I?

I am the largest U.S. coin and have a picture of George Washington. What am I?

I am half of a dollar, worth fifty cents, With a silvery shine that makes no pre-tense.

Name :

Match the Coin Riddle Worksheet

Riddle

I'm larger than a penny, but not as big as a dime,
A silvery coin, worth five in your spare time.
With a picture of a former president so fine,
Can you guess this coin of mine?

I'm a copper coin, shiny and brown,
Worth the least, but don't frown.
I'm often found on the ground,
In your pocket, I can always be found. What am I?

Two of me combined make a dollar's worth,
I'm smaller than a quarter, of lesser girth.
Guess the coin that represents fifty cents on Earth.

I'm a coin that's small and slim,
Worth ten cents, but not a gem.
With Roosevelt's face, I shine bright,
In your pocket, I'm a delight.
What coin am I in your sight?

A shiny disc, larger than the rest,
On the back, a bird's nest.
What coin am I? Take a guess
What am I?