

Butterfly Method Fractions Comparing

This method is similar to the cross multiplication method.

Draw the ovals and the antennae of a Butterfly.

Multiply the numbers in one oval and put the answer over the numerator.

Repeat with the other side.

Look at the product, the bigger product is the bigger piece. So, the alligator eats the bigger fraction.

